

EW10 EMBROIDERED CORD.

60" wide, navy blue very fine cotton needle-cord which will do for most things from shirts to skirts, and has a nice floral, not too sparse but not too crowded embroidered design in pink and white on the burgundy, and blue and white on the navy blue. Very nice and for the moment unusual, I suspect that it won't be in due course because it's going to hit the high street between now and the end of November. Incidentally the labels on the rolls that I've just talked about have got mixed up. They had the burgundy ticket on the navy one and the navy one on the burgundy. You may have guessed from that that it's foreign.

EW11 MODAC.

60" wide, modified acrylic camouflage cloth that is to say it's I suppose something like a polyester. It's synthetic, it's very, very strong, and quite soft. So you fancy a bit of Rambo you can make him some pyjamas out of it.

EW12 HARMFUL SUBSTANCE.

This 60" wide, pure linen fabric, proudly states on the label that it has been tested for harmful substances. 60" wide, pure Irish linen in a dyed burgundy colour. The chap who runs the place I bought it from said that he was going to have a suit made out of it, now this guy, well to put it mildly exaggerates the truth somewhat, but he is a follower of fashion and said to me that it was going to be all the rage to look like a sack of potatoes. He boasted that he had such a suit made by some Italian sounding designer chappy. The girls at work have seen it and were singularly unimpressed. Linen though is that sort of fabric isn't it, you either love it or you hate it. Wonderful to wear.

EW14 RAINWEAR.

A couple of ex Burberry rainwear cloths to regale you with.

1. Is a 100% polyester almost micro-fibre fabric which has got a breathable coating and comes in red.
2. Is a black one side, beige the other, fairly lightweight breathable cloth.
3. Almost identical, this time in a sort of khaki one side and pale beige the other.
4. A very lightly sueded poly/cotton in fuchsia.

In the dim and distant we've had these before. They really are fabulous cloths and 60" wide.

EW15 AND SO TO BED.

60" wide, delicious cotton batiste with the most delicate of outline floral embroideries you can imagine. Allegedly this is in nighties in the best clothing store in the land, I don't know how much they're charging if that is the case but I can think of another famous nightie company that would be charging you ninety quid for a nightie made out of this stuff. But don't just make nighties out of it.

EW15 BLACK AND BLUE.

I don't recall having seen this kind of cloth before. A pure new wool fabric which has a sort of dark royal blue one side and I can't really tell in this light whether it's black or navy blue on the other, but if its navy blue it's a very dark navy blue, and it's actually two cloths bonded together. It was made for Burberry, were they just making reversible coats from it or reversible jackets, who knows, but rather tasty. 60" wide.

EW16 LAMBSWOOL.

60" wide, very dark brown lambs wool coating with a very faint but positive big herringbone weave in black. The overall impression from a distance is that of a dark brown coating. Only the detail of the herringbone in black is available when you get close up. A beautiful soft handle.

EW17 FINE WINE.

There's not a lot of point in pretending to be a lover of fine wine when all you want to do is boast how good the third bottle was. I have two acquaintances one who falls into that category and another one who says it's a waste of money, he would rather just drink carafes of plonk because he can't tell the difference anyway. I have a wide circle of friends, even if a little narrow in brain power. How did I get on to this, I recently got a book on wine written by a guy who looks to be, I don't know, no more than thirty or he's lead a very sheltered life. So how he can know all this about wine I don't know, however, I've read the thing and I don't want to talk about what he knows about wine, he was wearing a pair of jeans on the cover picture and I wouldn't mind betting that they aren't made from this cloth, and I'll bet they are burberry and he certainly looks the sort of chap that would want to do that. It is a 98% cotton, 2% lycra dark blue denim with a very different weave. Now denim traditionally is a three in one twill, that's how it started in the dim and distant in America, then it might have been Wrangler it might have been Levi or maybe the two together then went on to a broken twill weave. Which means instead of the thing running diagonally and permanently it introduced a warp yarn that interrupted the diagonal lines if you will, so why they didn't just make it a plain weave I don't know, but they call it broken twill. This is a plain weave but it has quite a bit of the lighter yarn that denims are made from showing through. So it doesn't look a bit like a denim is what I'm trying to get too. I've never seen it before, this is the only roll we're likely to ever have, there's only 50 metres on it, it's 5.00 a metre and it's fabulous. 60" wide.

5.00 per mtr.

NB. I know denim actually had it's origins in France.

EW18 BEST PART OF A SHILLING.

Can you remember when you could buy fags for that, 1s 11d for 10, good night out for ten bob with some change and being sick into the bargain. This cloth would be of yesteryear had it not got lycra in it, because in the days of which I have just spoken I don't think it was available. Any stretch had to be put in with elastic yarn in the way they did with crepe bandages, do you remember them? This is a totally wonderful 60" wide, charcoal grey, 98% worsted wool, 2% lycra, 7oz suiting. I only get these cloths you know so that I can wax lyrical about them. This is one we have had before, scrumptious.

EW19 BRIDESHEAD.

Watching yet another re-run of Brideshead Revisited recently. I am amazed at the quality of the tailoring. I know they were well to do people, but the tailoring of Sebastian's clothes in particular is absolutely outstanding. Now I know that it wasn't meant to be set in Yorkshire but they did use Castle Howard and Yorkshire is still maybe the home of the world's finest suitings. Whether woven there or not is another matter, and I promise you this is leading somewhere, and it is too a 60" wide, 50% linen, 50% silk suiting. The linen will, obviously give it a considerable amount of wear and the silk, whilst it will wear nearly as well also adds a degree of softness too it. It's perhaps a brown Donegal tweed is as near to a description as I can get but without all the flecks. So it is made up of brown and beige yarn and has a beautiful hand. 60" wide.

EW20 NO BIAS.

Just to prove that we can deal with the sublime and the ridiculous in one small step for mankind we have this 60" wide, 100% polyester suiting in either black or navy blue with a very tiny silver fleck in the warp yarn. I'm tempted to say that it is a cheaper alternative, that wouldn't necessarily be true, it is much cheaper than the linen/silk we've just talked about, but polyester fabrics have come an awful long way in the last ten years, and this is a very handleable, virtually non-crease easy care suiting.

EW21 CHRISTMAS.

54" wide, 100% cotton Christmas fabrics in just two designs. One in red, one in green, both have a holly pattern. It's a green pattern on the green and it's a green pattern on the red. Obviously somewhat different on the green otherwise you wouldn't be able to see it, but it is noticeably different.

EW22 INVESTITURE.

EW23 TAFFETA.

A 60" wide, polyester two tone shot taffeta in yellow and orange yarns which produce anything from quite a pale lemon look to a quite deep rusty colour. Dependant on which way up and which way the light shines and so on and so forth.

EW24 AS YOU WERE.

This 60" wide, very pale dusky pink polyester "silk" is as silk like as you can imagine without it being the proper article. To boot it has a very delicate wispy floral design in dark blue and a silver lustre yarns with an all-over pattern but there is absolutely loads of the background cloth showing. The cloth itself is delicate, the colours are delicate and I think it's rather splendid.

EW25 IMPROBABLE.

I'm not so sure that you would have seen and I certainly had never seen 100% cotton sheeting made from a charcoal grey and light grey 2" square checked cloth. Made for John Lewis it is 110" wide and you might get away with not washing it for a little while. Does that sound like students, beautiful fabric.

EW26 CURTAIN SPOILER.

54" wide, poly/cotton sateen "curtain lining" which will not only protect your curtains but will look good to the passers by when your curtains are drawn. A beautiful cloth, probably made as a curtaining in its own right to be printed on and much better than any other curtain lining, I won't say ever seen, but seen for a long time.

Also some slight seconds (very pale darker lines at 1-2mtr intervals)

EW28 DOESN'T ADD UP.

This 60" wide, off-white, not quite cream, not quite ivory, maybe not quite anything but off-white suiting weight cotton/linen mixture. Now here's the rub, it says on the label, 68% cotton and 38% linen and without a calculator I can tell that that's wrong. We could have a football situation here where the manager has demanded a 110% from his players, which is a way of getting them to play at something above 50%. This is a glorious cloth, it's an ex Burberry fabric and it has a slight slubbiness in the weft.

EW29 RAG, TAG AND BOBTAIL.

We have a little parcel of black polyester faux suede which has a border cut out of it. It has this pattern which has been cut out, fairly clever I guess. I've discovered how they do it and if you want the detail I can bore you with it but for now I won't. It's all black, the border is in most cases towards one edge so it would form the bottom of a skirt and there's an odd roll that's actually got a scalloped edge as well as this cut out pattern. I've decided that somebody's going to like this at the 2.00 a metre price that it is. 60" wide.

EW30 LOST AND FOUND.

A 56" wide, gawdily printed very fine cotton lycra lawn, which considering the wonderful array of colours in the print should never have got lost in the first place. It's a big Carmen Miranda floral type print in black/white/pink/cherise/yellow/green/beige riotously joyful and quite pretty. There's just an odd 100 metre roll. Another ex Burberry fabric.

EW31 MISSING THE BOAT.

I sincerely hope we haven't all missed out on what appears to be a bit of a boucle bonanza, but I've just found four rolls of a quite wonderful 40% wool, 30% mohair, 10% nylon, suiting weight boucle. There are three colours, one of which is a greeny colour, one of which is a burgundy colour and one of which is a grey colour. But as they are all made up of lots of different coloured yarns they all have this heathery hue to them. You can see all the different coloured yarns involved just in from the selvedge and it's scrumptious, and it is a what goes round comes around situation because this cloth has been around, not this particular cloth but a variation on this cloth, has been around for 25 years, but don't go looking in the loft or the cellar, have some of this. 60" wide.

EW35 NOT TOO MUCH OF A GOOD THING.

A 60" wide, quite heavy nylon and polyester fabric in black. There's only 30 metres on the piece and it's extraordinarily heavy. It has a fairly dull finish so it would be all-right for back-drops, but it is for coats really.

2.50 per mtr.

EW36 THE FOSBURY.

60" wide or thereabouts, ever so slightly crinkled polyester crepe de chine in French navy. It has a floppiness about it which suggests that it will drape well and being made of polyester you can almost do anything you want on it and it'll come up smelling of roses.

EW37 TWO MORE NEEDLE-CORDS.

60” wide, polyester knitted “crimplene” fabric in a very traditional and autumnal houndstooth check. All sagey green and heathery and brown and rust, allegedly in the best clothing store in the land as we speak, and I can see this making wonderful skirts, trousers, jackets which will be very, very good looking. Easy to wear, and easy to care for, but as with all things the march of time has taken the price to 3.00 a metre but for this cloth that is cheap I promise you.

1. Medium weight red canvas.
2. A darker red canvas.
3. An off-white cotton canvas with a beige rubberised coating.
4. A lightish weight navy on a black knitted polyester cloth.
5. Almost the same but darker blue on a white cloth.
6. Navy blue with a self colour rip stop check with a pale grey backing.

EW60 IF YOU'RE ONLY GOING TO DO IT ONCE, DO IT RIGHT.

Herewith, please find two fur fabrics which by the time I've finished this catalogue may have increased to many fur fabrics, it all depends on how excited or impetuous I get, but the two that I want to talk to you about at this juncture are a chinchilla one and a black one. Both approximately 60" wide, the pile grows from a woven background. The chinchilla one is about a ½" pile, the black one is about 1 ½", and in each case the pile is dense, you can't see the back cloth at all. They've arrived here in the dirtiest boxes that you can imagine, so we've had to be extremely careful when unpacking them, because even though the boxes are a metre square and 60" long, now there's an interesting thing isn't it, a metre square and 60" long. It takes care of everything, perhaps I should do the whole thing in pound, shillings and pence as well. In these boxes is a frame, and on the frame there are hooks and the fur fabric is engaged onto the hooks just so that it doesn't get squashed. It's been like this for a long time because we've had this fur before. We haven't had the chinchilla one but we have had the black one. When we had it before we sold this for 15.00 a metre and I promise you it flew out because a coat from this will cost you three or four hundred pounds. But this time it isn't that, it's 10.0 a metre. Mouth wateringly beautiful.

10.00 per mtr.

P.S. There's a document in each box which says that the articles should not be water washed, the only washing allowed is dry washing. Would somebody please explain. So it would have to be dry clean, so it's not really for making toys out of, or not toys that small persons are going to play with anyway.

EW61 HALLOWEEN.

A friend of mine asked did I want some Halloween fabrics and I couldn't really understand what. They had a collection of articles with witches on them and broomsticks and that sort of stuff. I said that we never got round to it in our part of the world even though we have the Pendle Witches. Pendle hill is a significant lump not far from here and at the base is a place called Newchurch and going back however many years, a lot of years they used to claim that Newchurch was sort of haunted and they still have a shop which sells broomsticks and witches outfits simply made from black cloth. Which brings me to our Halloween, silky soft but densely woven, half shiny polyester fabric, it's probably wasted on making something just for Halloween because it's a bonny cloth.60" wide.

2.50 per mtr.

Incidentally if you did want to decorate it at all we do have our 45" wide black hologram polyester satin with ghosts in either red, green or blue, or fuchsia which could set things alight if you wanted them to.

EW64 SUAVE.

This is an Italian fabric which seems to be a favourite expression of yet again the best clothing shop in the land, so why shouldn't I use it. This is a 54" wide, slightly wrinkled, polyester chiffon in a sort of khaki along with the traditional paisley design in dark greens, burgundy, white and a light orange, such is the colour and the density of pattern that you can spill on this and nobody will tell. You'll know, because whatever you spill will go through it. A Beautiful delicate fabric.

EW66 GOLDEN SLUMBERS.

This 50" wide, 50% wool 50% mohair, with the addition of a tiny gold thread running throughout And then lightly brushed on one side. A shawl fabric is the best way I can describe it. It's a relatively open weave, soft as the hair of an angel, well nearly, and comes in

1. A light bluey lilacy purple
2. Maroon with some beige.
3. Mauve with a bit of grey.
4. Two tone green.
5. Brown/beige.

We haven't an awful lot of any of it, it was an expensive cloth to make I imagine.

EW67 BIG FINISH.

This 110" wide heavy linen is how it says on the label, furnishing fabric in dark beige, not khaki but a darkish beige, almost Sandhurst beige with an all-over busy but not too dense floral pattern in shades of blue and pale turquoise. It's a quite magnificent fabric that I couldn't resist, and if we don't sell it I'll have to drape all the windows in the shop with it. Incidentally it is 50% linen 50% cotton.

A little while ago we had a polyester faux suede fabric in olive with a stitched patchwork design which we at the time certainly couldn't get enough of. Well we've now got some black which is different. The stitching is of course black and it looks for all the world as though it's all been put together separately, which of course it hasn't. A nice easy care fabric. 60" wide.

EW70 SEERSUCKER.

50% cotton 50% polyester woven seersucker gingham check in either green and white, blue and white or yellow and white. It's a smaller than average check and the seersuckering is not too pronounced but there, you have the benefits of the coolness that that sort of weave gives. 56" wide.

2.00 per mtr.

EW71 WOOL BOUCLE.

60" wide, 96% wool 4% nylon boucle of slightly heavier than suiting weight but not coating weight, so jacket weight. It's in shades of grey mixed with what appears to be very dark purple and shades of grey, but overall a melange of those colours and has a lovely handle.

EW72 JACK HARD.

54" wide, white cotton shirting with an all-over woven multi faceted jacquard weave. That is to say it's not strictly a floral, it's not strictly an abstract, it's a mish-mash, difficult to weave and a nice fabric with a nice soft finish.

EW74 UNBLEACHED JIM.

Yes, but not as we know it. This is a 60" wide unbleached cotton lightweight furnishing fabric which has got a 1" wide stripe at 1" intervals up and down the cloth. Had this been finished it would have come out as a satin stripe, so the stripe is slightly different in texture to the rest of the cloth. For what it's worth it makes a change.

It has been washed and scoured and so it has had some of the shrinkage taken out of it but they'll still be some for those of you want to dye it.

EW77 I DIDN'T GET WHERE I AM TODAY.

Do you remember CJ, he of the domineering manner and failed business. Be all that as it may I have obviously not been able to persuade you to consider this rather fabulous check, quite heavyweight taffeta. It's in shades of purple/turquoise/green/red/black, there are checks within checks and over-checks and it's whilst being colourful it's still reasonably subdued. This has been in traditional skirts for evening wear forever and looks absolutely wonderful made up and of course you can wear different tops with it, but primarily they need to be black I think. So perhaps it has a Scottish flavour. 60" wide, last bolt.

EW79 STICKING OUT.

In between catalogues which doesn't seem to afford much time these days we do things like hand blocking. This is taking the full rolls of cloth, unrolling them and rolling them and folding them at the same time. Where it's normally done on a machine but the ladies can see how tired I get and so taking pity they hand block rolls of cloth. One such roll was protruding this morning to such an extent the I almost did myself an injury and to my surprise I didn't even know we'd got it. It's a lovely black soft finished poly/viscose skirt/trouser fabric with a gorgeous handle. 60" wide.

EW80 DEVORE.

60" wide, black fine stretch polyester net with an all-over flock devore design. It's something that you need to wear over something but why not be bold.

I mentioned earlier that there would be more fur, well its come a little bit quicker than I thought. This fur is in black or dark brown. It's figured as it would be if it was an animal fur. Just how they've done it I haven't the faintest idea, but it's awfully clever and looks absolutely gorgeous. It catches the light in a way that pure long haired fur doesn't. Around 60" wide.

EW96 CHEF.

60" wide, 100% cotton twill in a white, royal blue, navy blue and checkered white and navy blue diamond pattern. So it's a bit harlequiness . The diamond shapes are squares of course but printed in such a way that the points touch so that they look like diamonds.. Made in good old blighty by Carrington Viyella.

EW97 IN THE HUNT.

60" wide, poly/viscose mini hunter tartan shirting. As fine a weave as you can get, softly finished, probably used as a lining for outerwear garments of all manners of descriptions. Incidentally another Carrington Viyella fabric. The colours in the check are red/black/green/yellow.

EW98 HENS TEETH.

Somewhere in a darkened room has been kept this rather wonderful array of 36" wide, yes, 36" wide polyester satins. Elsewhere we have a slipper satin which we get in sort of remnant form, biggish remnants having said that. Well this isn't quite in that league because that's intended for something much heavier than ordinary linings. This is dress lining, but beautifully finished and comes in pastel pink, cherry red, royal blue, a beautiful pale mint green, khaki, light bottle, sandy rich camel, very dark brown and black.

EW99 WHILST WE'RE AT IT.

We might as well go down the wool path now we're there.

EW102 SHORT ENDS.

These are effectively off-cuts of another 100% wool black Melton fabric woven some 24" too wide for the articles that they were making and didn't want to dispose of the ends in any other way than to sell them to me, for me to sell to you.

EW103 INVINCIBLE.

Following on from the cream cloth used by the navy this last 50 metres or so of another Ministry of Defence cloth. This time in a very dark navy, extremely heavy wool as those of you who have bought it will know, but what fabulous blankets it will make for horses. Ministry of Defence didn't use it for that, they used it to invade Iraq. 60" wide.

EW104 YOU DON'T HAVE TO BE POSH....

What a daft advert that is. The casting of Joanna Lumley and Ian Wright is just about bob on, isn't it. I wonder which Golf club they were using, if indeed they were using one, it might just have been a facsimile, but, whatever, if it was a golf club, the chances are they might have had proper table linen. Perhaps you do, and if you don't, why not? especially when we have this rather delicious variety of articles. All this lot stems from the closure of this very old established business in Ireland as well as Lancashire, so we'll deal with the Irish bit first. We have two different sizes of tablecloth.

1. Is round and is 91" in diameter
2. Is oblong which is 54" wide by 91" long.

Both are in a creamy colour, not cream, cream but almost an unbleached cotton cream, but that sort of cream not a bright cream and they have this fairly large scrolly medallion sort of damask weave. They're 100% linen and were made to go into one of the leading hotels in Dubai.

20.00 each.

That's about a quarter of what they would have been.

EW105 HEMP.

A little while ago we had an item that I described as being Too much of a good thing, which was a linen/Hessian fabric which had been spoiled down one edge, well I don't know whether they're doing this on purpose or not but there's another batch arrived, a lighter weight than last time but still a very strong and firm fabric. It's in its natural beige/mushroomy colour, it's a plain weave, it has some damage 6"- 10" in from the selvedge, so instead of being 10.00 a metre it's 3.50 a metre, and you bought all the lot last time, perhaps you'll do the same this time. A good craft or upholstery fabric or fairly contemporary furnishings too I imagine. 58" wide.

3.50 per mtr.

P.S. I think the damage which is caused by water will wash out if you want to wash it.

EW106 POLARTEC.

The last roll of this 300gm. weight polar fleece from Maldon Mills in Lawrence, Massachusetts, supplied to Henry Lloyd to be used as an inner for a very expensive waterproof jacket. It comes in darkish green, not quite bottle but nearly .60" wide.

EW107 F.R.

The black back fire retardant furnishing/curtain fabric that we've had down the years is now made in Italy, so it's a remote chance that we will get anymore. We do have some left, and as I say they are black on one side so rust, bottle, and a proper jade green. Enormously expensive to make, approximately 60" wide.

3.50 per mtr.

EW108 IMITATION LEATHER.

EW113 HAMMERLE.

You may recall in the past that we've had lots of different cloths from Hammerle, in the really dim and distant past we used to get a lot of fent from them which covered the whole gamut of lightweight shirting/rainwear cloths. They were, perhaps even still are, the best shirting manufacturer on earth, and we've got a cloth from yesteryear amongst us as I speak. It says return to sender on the label. I believe it had to be returned to the sender because the recipient, a very, very ex famous shirt maker went verplonk and the cloth finished up here at Croft Mill. It's a 60" wide, 100% cotton medium weight, but very, very finely woven cloth in a light brown/khaki with a very, very fine line over check in darker shades of blue and a brown, and then criss-crossing it are extremely finely coloured blue yarns. All about 1/8" apart, so it is a very fine check, a very fine cloth and only 2.50 a metre and I'll bet it cost the shirt maker at least 5.00 many moons ago.

2.50 per mtr.

EW114 NO CLAIM AFTER CUTTING.

That has always been a disclaimer when manufacturers of fabric have supplied makers of garments. I suppose it doesn't need to say anymore, it's quite plain. Anyway, here we have a selection of linen and cotton fabrics in a plain and patterned colours and designs and they are as follows.

The plain colours pale blue. They're suiting weight, 60" wide and absolutely beautifully made.

The patterned ones are

1. Pale green with an abstract floral design in pale peach/mustard/darker green and white.
2. A very dark navy blue with an abstract floral design in other shades of blue with a big outline floral design in white.
3. A very pale grey which is exactly like the green one except this time the floral design is in pale peach/black/grey/red.
4. A pale green, with this time the design being in navy blue and white.
5. A rich orangey red with the same pattern as 2 but in cream/pale peach/brown.
6. Same design but in sage green/white.
7. Same design as 4 but in beige with a navy/white pattern.
8. Different altogether is this one. A pale green/pale peach "watery" background with abstract splodges, squares and squiggles in dark blue and wedgewood blue.

These have been cleared from a very expensive shop that has decided to go down a different route, and I don't know whether I can mention the name so I won't. No point in getting into trouble if you don't have to.

4.50 per mtr.

They were for sale at least three times that.

EW115 P.L.P.

60" wide, very pretty printed cotton lawn, approximately 58" wide or 150cm. Just one design in a pale cream background with an attractive all-over floral print in pink/green/brown/mustard and is the last 100 metres of a cloth that we would like to have had more of. Anyway, we haven't, hopefully you will.

4.0 per mtr.

EW116 TEHANA STORM.

60" wide, cotton lawn in two stripe designs.

1. Is in brown/pink/blue with quite a few variations and the density and fineness of stripe, so that you have a thickish pink one and by thick I mean no more than 1/16" followed by half a dozen very fine pin-stripe pink ones, followed by a brown, followed by some thin pink, followed by brown. Very. Very nice and it is actually woven, I thought it was printed but it's not, it's woven. So its delicate, its not bold in any shape or form which isn't quite like the sister cloth which is a much bolder.
2. All the same colours, browns/pinks/fawns/blues/turquoise, this time at 1/8" intervals up and down the cloth interspersed with white. They do very much go together but this one is printed not woven.

Both ex Burberry fabrics.

4.00 per mtr.

EW117 COTTON JERSEY.

1. 60" wide at least, cotton jersey in either mid blue with a black and white creeping small floral design.
2. Or a dark wine background with not quite the same crawling floral pattern but a similar one, once again in black and white.

It's a good weight and a nice fabric, I think it's the last of one that was actually dyed in this country, whether or not the actual fabric was made here I'm not sure.

2.50 per mtr.

EW118 A STEAL.

The place I got this wool/tweed from accused me of stealing it, in that I didn't pay anything like what they said it was worth. I'm not so sure that it's as good as they think it is, but he was crying as I loaded it into the van. I suppose I've just told you he's a softy. Basically it's brown, with a raised ribbed weave and it has scattered all over it little tweedy bits in white/peach/beige/ and mabe there's something else in there. But they're a lot of little bits in it so it's a proper tweed. 60" wide.

3.00 per mtr.

EW119 A NEW SLANT.

60" wide, fine poly/wool suiting in a sort of hacking check in the traditional colours of browns/navy blue/burgundy on a beige background. The check is about 1/4" perhaps a tad less than that. Yorkshire made.

EW121 SILK ORGANZA.

Between me coming up with that title and starting to think about it and getting round to talking about it has taken about 20 minutes. I don't know about silks, to be truthful, but this is a wistfully fine embroidered silk organza. It actually has quite a bit of body to it even though it's eminently see-through and has this infrequent but regular embroidered circle design. It comes in grey and the embroiders in a sort of silvery grey, and in the middle of the embroidery I have now discovered there's a little metal ball decoration. Can only have been made for those sort of shawls that you put around your shoulders of a Summers evening having just slid down the banister whilst having a few gins putting on your make-up. How does he know that, you may well ask. I believe it's a bargain at 10.00 a metre and could well be at home in furnishing. 60" wide. Last 20 metres.

EW122 CRAFT VURK.

Pure cotton/jute Hessian in either 54" or 72" wide. They're slightly different weights.

54" wide is 2.00 per mtr.

66" wide is 3.00 per mtr.

Eminently suitable for upholstery as well as craft needs.

EW123 REFLECTIVE BRAID.

Approximately 1 1/2" wide red polyester braid of quite enormous strength which has got bonded into it a 1" wide silver reflective tape. It's an alternative to the stick on one that we have, and this isn't 2.00 a metre, this is 1.00 a metre.

1.00 per mtr.

EW124 ISN'T HE BOLD.

A lovely 98% cotton 2% lycra shirting in a pink/white/pale orange/burgundy variegated check. There are little fine lines running everywhere and bolder lines criss crossing them. It's a very fresh and lovely feeling fabric. 50" wide. Was 2.50 a metre.

Now 1.50 per mtr.

EW125 LONG TIME NO SEE.

This is a 110" wide, 100% Egyptian cotton, 280 count, printed percale sheeting. Bit of a mouthful. In simpler terms it means it's beautiful, and the print of course is in the eye of the beholder.

1. There are two one of which is a sort of beige/light brown background with a fine double pin stripe in brown and white going across the cloth.
2. Is the similar kind of background with a big contrasting but toning floral design in shades of browns and fawns with white.

It does have a name Country something or other, as you might expect, when you get bored and can't think of a name, call it Little Flowers or Floral something but in this case Country Floral. It is very nice, they obviously do go together if you like the idea of stripes and flowers going together. I don't know who it was made for but given that I've seen similar things in fairly upmarket department stores costing fifty and sixty pounds a sheet.

EW126 COVER THE ESSENTIALS.

A rather fanciful and beautiful embroidered chiffon in white which although delicate is still fairly robust and has been given this rather beautiful swirling embroidered floral pattern, obviously in the same colour.45" wide.

EW128 BABY GABERDINE.

60" wide, poly/viscose superfine gabardine suiting in traditional dark navy blue or black.

3.00 per mtr.

EW129 BLACK BETTY.

Not so sure that isn't the title of a song. 60" wide, black lightweight polyester Panama suiting. As basic and as standard as you can get for a very hard wearing every day cloth.

2.00 per mtr.

EW130 SOFTLY AS I LEAVE YOU.

You remember how silky smooth Matt Monroe's voice was or still is of course. Well this cloth is as silky smooth as that. It's 100% lightweight polyester skirt/trouser weight fabric which is unbelievably soft, drapes beautifully, washes and dries in minutes. It has a very, very faint herringbone weave stripe. It comes in a soft creamy beige.60" wide.

2.50 per mtr.

EW132 THE GO BETWEEN.

60" wide, linen/viscose and polyester woven jacquard fabric in cream with a pink or almost silvery beige floral pattern. It strikes me it would be equally at home as a furnishing or the clothing fabric that it was intended for. It's a good jacket weight, and obviously went into jackets, waistcoats and that sort of thing in what is again the best clothing shop in the land.

5.00 per mtr.

EW133 LINEN UNION.

A little bit of a throwback here, 56" wide, linen cotton union, 48% linen 52% cotton, in its raw state. Well not quite off the loom but it's had a wash but that's all its had. It's quite heavy, heavier than the last lot we had and because it's only made to order these days this is an odd seventy metres that we are almost privileged to have.

5.00 per mtr.

EW134 STRIPED TOWELLING.

60" wide, thick cotton bathrobe towelling in a navy blue and green 2" stripe. Absolutely fantastic quality, and if you want to make towels for students which will do without washing for some time this is another cloth for you. This really is as good as it gets.

EW135 ONE HUNDRED AND EIGHTY.

This 108" wide, poly/cotton percale sheeting hails from across the pond and comes in lilac, peach or lemon and is getting on for percale quality. Because of the density of the cloth the colours are nice and rich.

EW136 SMALL BUT SIGNIFICANT.

A little range of 60" wide poly/wool suitings which have arrived here from Italy via Sweden. They're all of a distinctly Summer weight, That is to say between 7oz and 9oz which sort of makes that 150gms. to 190gms. doesn't it, per running yard, which obviously makes them more per metre. There's some interest in the weaves but basically they're all plain.

1. A pale stone.
2. Moss green.
3. Navy blue.

If I were choosing one, that's the one I would choose but they're very tasty all of them, and they're only 5.00 a metre and that I promise you is something else.

5.00 per mtr.

EW137 VEIL OF SECRECY.

44" wide polyester net in either cream or white with the added distraction of polka dot flocking in white on white and cream on cream.

1.50 per mtr.

EW138 BEYONCE.

60" wide, light-weight cotton lycra denim which has a sort of zig zag patchwork embroidered design in quite a lot of lustrous colours. The lines that form it are only about 1/8" wide and the colours are pinks, browns, greens, blues, orange. Sounds as though it's a fashion item but it isn't. It's extremely pretty, and hopefully fairly rare because it was a very expensive cloth to make.

4.00 per mtr.

EW139 THE MARCH OF TIME.

60" wide, Spring weight wool and cashmere coating in the most delicate shade of mint green. 90% wool 10% cashmere, as good to feel as it is to look at.

EW143 POMP.

EW144 PRETTY PRINTS.

Do you know that heading hasn't changed for donkeys years, but why change something that doesn't need changing. These are 45" wide, 50/50 poly/cotton printed dress fabrics as follows.

1. Is a very pale blue with a tiny white polka dot.
2. Is the same but in peach.
3. Is the same but in cream.
4. Is the same but in white.
5. Is a pale mint green with a tiny white floral pattern.
6. Is cream with a white floral pattern.
7. Is white with a white floral pattern.

EW146 IN ALL HIS FINERY.

This 60" wide, pure cotton lawn is perhaps the finest woven cloth I've ever seen. It is in fact woven from two fold 180's yarn which goes beyond being fine. If there is a down side to this cloth it could even be that it's too fine, but it is made in such a way that it almost runs through your fingers. White only, ex Burberry and 4.00 a metre.

EW147 THE BIT BETWEEN.

60" wide, poly/cotton heavy-ish shirting in dusky pink with at 2" intervals down the cloth is a very pretty 1" wide floral embroidered stripe in a slightly different shade of lustrous pink yarn. A kaftan sort of cloth.

EW148 EURO MILLIONS.

No, didn't really win the share of the big prize, but a person who should remain nameless allowed these few rolls of cloth to get here at an advantageous price. Nuff said. 60" wide, polyester lining in dark beige. Last 50 metres.

Only 1.00 per mtr.

EW149 DIFFERENT SHEETING.

94" wide, 50/50 poly/cotton sheeting which is better than our ordinary normal sheeting. Not quite as good as percale but certainly leaning very much that way. It comes in paprika which is a very sort of pale tanny orange, or burgundy, and the burgundy is leaning towards a damson shade rather than maroon.

3.50 per mtr.

EW150 SAME BUT DIFFERENT.

In the last catalogue we had a black 95% polyester 5% lycra hard wearing, uncreasable, light flowing quite fabulous cloth, of which we sold out of very quickly. It comes in black, pale lilac and a very interesting pewter, it says on the label, but it's not, it's getting on for black, but it has this purpley hue in the fabric which adds a great deal of interest and for yours truly's sake, excitement.60" wide.

2.50 per mtr.

EW151 CLOUD.

60" wide, satin back crepe of a very, very good quality which has a lining to go with it, and so this was made to go together. Whether one was under t'other I don't know, but they were made to go together. It comes in a very pale lilac.

The lining 1.50 per mtr.

Satin back crepe is 3.00 per mtr.

EW152 PUNCH DRUNK.

56" wide, polyester suede in light brown or a khaki colour or black with a very lightly punched simple floral pattern and is the same quality suede as the Sea Island suede that we've had at Croft Mill for quite some time. Despite this and the fact that it costs more to do the hole-punching this is 3.00 a metre too and not 6.00 as in the plain colour.

3.00 per mtr.

EW153 GOLD LAME.

45" wide quite wafer thin polyester fabric which has been coated in gold. The sort of thing that you see tied around presents at Christmas time and perhaps lining shelves. Very effective, extremely light. Also in silver.

3.00 per mtr.

EW154 LIGHTWEIGHT WATERPROOFS.

Some new lightweight waterproofs to tell you about, 60" wide at least.

1. Is in burgundy.
2. Is a fine rip-stop nylon in a light royal blue.
3. Fluorescent yellow.

Ideal as over trousers or a pakamac.

2.50 per mtr.

EW155 PRINCE OF WALES.

I don't know which Prince of Wales it was that commissioned this particular weave in the dim and distant, but it's a pattern that remains with us and sometimes is fairly high class fashion. Whether it's in at the moment or not I don't know but we have got a little selection of 60" wide, pure woollen Prince of Wales cloths, Yorkshire woven in the case of the first two and woven in Scotland in the case of the third one.

1. Is the most traditional in that it's in black and white with a fine blue line over check.
2. Is in brown and beige with a fine line over check in tan.

EW156 PRAISE BE.

60" wide, pure new wool flannel, made in Scotland in an absolutely glorious shade of light tan with the faintest of over lined checks in mustard, the fine lines form a check about 2" square but it's very, very faint, so why did they put it there in the first place I ask myself? Well the reason being is that part of that mustard is also in the main weave so that the cloth has this propensity to look slightly different colours dependant on which way it falls. Absolutely glorious.

EW157 TRIMS AND THINGS.

1. 1" or thereabouts wide long hair fur ribbon. That is to say the fur is woven into a 1" wide lightweight canvas. I don't believe it can have happened this way I think it was probably much wider and has been slit into these widths, but I don't know. The fur length is approximately 1/2" and it comes in a light olive green.

20 pence per mtr.

EW158 CROCHET MOTIFS.

This next lot are just little crocheted motifs. Iron on as before but these don't have the instructions on the back where the others do, but all you need is an iron and a cloth to protect the motif and whack it onto the cloth, I'm sure that's all you need to do.

1. Is a vaguely heart shaped design thing about 2" x 2" across in lilac/rust/pale green.
2. Is about 1 1/2" square with a lilac and rose pink flower on it.
3. Is a lilac mat, as it were, with a rose pink and green flower on it.
4. Is a rose pink/dusky pink mat with a green and lilac flower upon it.
5. Is, I think you might even say this would be a coaster, it's about 3" across and it's made up of little circles in rust/lilac/green.

These things can all be used to decorate garments or furnishings.

20 pence each.

EW159 BORN YESTERDAY.

That, along with, didn't come on a banana boat, didn't fall out of a tree, are expressions refuting ones ability to think straight or even think at all. This is a 45" wide, pretty substantial cotton/winceyette cloth that was certainly made yesterday, many yesterdays in fact ago. I can't trace all its origins but it's Lancashire woven and finished cloth. It's in basically off-white background with a dark grey stripe at 1/2" intervals. A bit like a Granddad shirting I suppose you'd call it, and a born yesterday price of only 2.00 a metre. Almost the end.

2.00 per mtr.

or 10 metres for 10.00.

EW160 P.C.P.

EW166 WINNIE THE POOH.

80" wide, 100% cotton sheeting fabric in a rather delicate and nice shade of pale green with winnie, eehaw and friends chasing butterflies and collecting flowers and the words Hip Hip Hooray, tiddlypom, and things like that printed in white all over the cloth, but not too intrusively. We can't claim exclusivity but it is as rare as hen's teeth is this stuff.

EW167 ORGANDIE.

45" wide, nylon organdie, and don't be put off by the fact that it's nylon. Extremely finely woven, quite shiny and comes in navy. Beautifully made in Japan.

EW168 DRESS NET.

54" wide, stiff dress net in white, black, cream, pink, fluorescent yellow, fluorescent lime green, and fluorescent orange

1.25 per mtr.

EW169 CAMILLA.

I'm almost tempted to use the word imposter, but I'd better not. This cloth is a bit of a con in some respects in that it is linen and viscose. The reason for doing this is to make the linen a bit softer, more easily washable and more easily wearable, and all these things are accomplished in this rather nice 54" wide cloth in pink, natural, lilac or pale green. It looks for all the world like its all linen but now that I've told you what I've told you we know that it isn't. In some ways I wish it was, but you can't have everything. 70% linen 30% viscose.

3.00 per mtr.

EW170 REFLECTIVE TAPE.

You will recall that, oh perhaps a year ago now we had some 2" wide, iron on reflective tape, which when bought from elsewhere would cost you 3.95 a metre only cost 2.00 here. I know that's a lot of money but you don't need a lot do you? It's silver and is the sort of stuff that goes on the service peoples coats, i.e. police, ambulance, fire and all that sort of thing. So buy something orange, stick some of this on and you'll stand out like a chapel hat peg.

2.00 per mtr..

EW191 WHERE DID IT ALL GO WRONG.

Where to start. This knitted 92% polyester 8% lycra is an expensive mistake that's certain. It cost far too much to make to put into the kind of garments it was made for. A fairly heavy cloth in navy with an embroidered "abstract" floral design in black. The flowers are about 2" tall and the same distance apart. Wonderful if you know what to do with it. 58" wide. Lots of dye so wash it first.
